MABEL BOLL HOPS OFF FOR EUROPE; PLANE IS SIGHTED

She and Two Companions Due to Get "Gas" At Old Orchard or Newfoundland But They May Keep On Over Atlantic

BULLETIN
Halifax, N. S., June 12.—The monoplane, Columbia, carrying Mabel Boll, the "Queen of Diamonds," and three flying companions, passed over Parrboro, N. S. at 2 p. m., according to word reaching here.

The trans-Atlantic plane, which left Roosevelt field, New York, at 7:19 this morning was believed to be heading for Harbor Grace, Newfoundland. The weather was ideal.

Portland, Me., June 12.—Four hours after the Columbia took off from Roosevelt field, N. Y., the trans-Atlantic airplane remained unsighted along the New England coast line.

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., June 12.—Waving a ray farewell to her mother, Mabel Boll hopped off from here in the trans-Atlantic monoplane, Columbia, at 7:19 a. m. (Eastern daylight time) on the first leg of a flight to Europe.

The former Rochester (N. Y.) girl was accompanied by her pilot, Capt. Arthur Argles, and Andy Saurini, mechanic. The two war aces and the so-called "Queen of Diamonds" plan to stop either at Old Orchard, Me., or in Newfoundland to fill the plane's gasoline tanks for the flight

NEED SUPPLIES, NOBILE ADVISES

Wireless Messages Will Be Stopped Until He Charges Batteries
Rome, June 12.—In a wireless message received here today, General Umberto Nobile, marooned commander of the dirigible Italia, stated that his radio storage batteries were practically exhausted and that transmission of messages would have to be stopped for a few days until means were devised for recharging them.

In his message Nobile also made an urgent appeal for supplies. He asked for boots for his men, rifles and ammunition, medicines, sledges, cigarettes, an oil stove and three pneumatic boats.

Nobile advised that he had so rationed his meagre food supply that it would last for 50 days. He said that a single red tinted tent had been erected on a large ice-floe to enable aviators of the relief expeditions to sight his crew from the air.

Crew's Predicament Serious
King's Bay, Spitzbergen, June 12.—Suffering the pangs of hunger, inadequately equipped to combat the inclement weather of the arctic, and separated into three groups, one of which contained two injured men, the crew of the dirigible was today in a serious predicament on the ice northeast of Spitzbergen.

Almost all of the crew of 17 and General Umberto Nobile himself were suffering from frost-bite. One of the injured men suffered a broken leg when the gondola of the Italia crashed on the ice in attempting to land. It is feared that the Italia's surgeon may have to amputate the leg but it seems utterly impossible that he will be able to do so with no facilities at his command.

There was no confirmation here of a report that one of the crew of the Italia was killed outright when the gondola crashed. Another report that Lieut. Lutzow, Holm, Norwegian aviator, had found the two injured men near Brandy Bay on the north coast of Northeast Land, was also stamped as baseless here.

Powerful Leaders Speak Words That Assure A Victory For Him

SOLID STATE VOTE IN HOOVER COLUMN

White House Silent Over Possible Statement To Clarify Stand

Kansas City, June 12.—The nomination of Herbert Hoover by the Republican national convention here became a nearly certain today as anything political can be.

The big delegations from Pennsylvania and Massachusetts were both put definitely into the Hoover column by action of delegation caucuses, and this pushes Hoover's pledged strength considerably past the 545 nominating mark.

Two of the most powerful figures in this convention—Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon, and William M. Butler, chairman of the national committee, spoke the words that assured victory for Hoover.

What Butler Said
Butler told his Massachusetts delegates that he would vote for Hoover.

I have not desired to do anything that might preclude and foreclose the possibility of continuing President Coolidge in office," said Butler.

"But I now will ask my alternate to vote in my place for Herbert Hoover and I am satisfied that such a course will meet the approval of our beloved president. I am satisfied that it is satisfactory to the president for the good people of Massachusetts not to vote for him."

Mellon Lays Down Program
At the same time, Secretary Mellon was counseling the 79 Pennsylvanians in a similar vein across the street.

Secretary Mellon said that when he made his statement in Philadelphia a few weeks ago to the effect that of all the candidates that had presented themselves, Hoover came nearest to the Coolidge pattern he was still hopeful that President Coolidge might be prevailed upon to stand again.

"At the time of our conference in Philadelphia on May 12, it was still uncertain whether President Coolidge might be induced to accept a renomination," he said.

"Suggests" They Back Hoover
"Now, however, it has become clear that he will not do so. It, therefore, seems wise to look for that nominee who will best carry forward the policies of the present administration, which have won the wholehearted approval of the American people."

"As I said in Philadelphia, Mr. Hoover seems, of all the candidates, to best measure up to the high standards that we have set. My suggestion to my colleagues in the convention is that they vote for him."

Lee B. Vincent Wins Contest
The girl, Mrs. Ruth Hazlett, 24, Toledo, was arraigned this morning in Mayor Phil G. Hiddison's court on a charge of receiving and concealing stolen goods and was bound over to the grand jury on $2,000 bond.

C. Patterson, 19, Salem, held on a charge of grand larceny, and Ed. Hazlett, 22, Toledo, charged with receiving and concealing stolen goods are being held for arraignment pending word from Toledo police.

Suspected Patterson
The robbery was reported to police at 9:10 p. m. Monday. Patrolmen William Reardon and Wilbur Hiddison being detailed on the case.

Second prize, $5, goes to Miss Betty Whitacre, 343 McKinley ave. Third prize, $2.50, is awarded Miss Mary Louise Layden, 62 North Lundy st.

Each of the three prize winners picked Herbert Hoover as the probable Republican candidate, and they listed their reasons for the selection.

Nearly all of the other contestants, who did not receive prizes, also named Hoover as the party candidate.

Police Find Stolen Goods In Auto of Toledo Man; Girl Bound Over

Two young men and a girl are being held by Salem police today for the robbery of the home of Mrs. Anna Heckert, 189 E. Fourth st. Monday night of clothing and a gold ring, valued at $109.

The girl, Mrs. Ruth Hazlett, 24, Toledo, was arraigned this morning in Mayor Phil G. Hiddison's court on a charge of receiving and concealing stolen goods and was bound over to the grand jury on $2,000 bond.

C. Patterson, 19, Salem, held on a charge of grand larceny, and Ed. Hazlett, 22, Toledo, charged with receiving and concealing stolen goods are being held for arraignment pending word from Toledo police.

Lowden and Curtis Won't Concede That Hoover Is Winner

Kansas City, June 12.—Senator Charles Curtis, Kansas, favorite son candidate, today refused to concede the nomination of the Massachusetts and Pennsylvania delegates.

"The fight is still on," said Curtis. "The result is still uncertain. The balloting has not yet started and we will continue our fight until a nomination is made."

Just before he left the Lowden headquarters for the convention hall, Louis L. Emmerson, head of the anti-Hoover coalition said:

"We are still for Lowden. If we are licked, it will be while we are still fighting."

MEXICAN FLIER IS FORCED DOWN
Mooreville, N. C., June 12.—Forced down near here shortly before 4 a. m. Captain Emilie Carranza expected to resume his attempted flight from Mexico City to Washington today.

Before landing in a field four miles from here, guided only by the light from an automobile, the flier immediately went to sleep in a local hotel. The landing was made at 3:45 a. m. after the flier had circled the town several times in search of a place to land.

The Mexican brought his plane to earth in the midst of an electrical storm.

To Stabilize Franc
Paris, June 12.—Persistent reports were current today that a government decree will be issued at the end of the week stabilizing the franc at approximately its present value. The decree will give a gold value to the franc on the approximate basis of 126.10 to the pound sterling.

Slays His Wife and Then Kills Himself
Warren, June 12.—During a domestic quarrel here, J. J. Ogline today shot and killed his wife, then turned the weapon upon himself, according to police. He died shortly afterward.

Pennsylvania Backs Him For Party Nominee As Allies Fight On

Kansas City, June 12.—The curtain rose today on a Republican national convention filled with struggle and exceeding bitterness; a convention in which anything may happen, but in which only one thing appeared likely to happen—the nomination of Herbert Hoover early in the balloting.

The Hoover forces believe they are "in." The sorely-pressed allies against the cabinet candidate are still struggling, savagely and furiously, but it appeared to be a struggle of desperation this morning.

Part of Pennsylvania's 79 votes, at least, are certain to go for Hoover. That much became assured when Senator-Designate William S. Vare, who shares with Andrew W. Mellon the leadership of the Keystone delegates, declared unequivocally for Hoover.

"The Republicans in Pennsylvania, in my judgment, are for Herbert Hoover for president," said Vare.

Will Use His Influence
"I am convinced of the sincerity of the several statements by President Coolidge taking himself out of the race, and I shall therefore use my influence at the caucus of the Pennsylvania delegation to have Secretary Hoover's candidacy endorsed."

Vare controls 19, possibly 30, of the Pennsylvania delegates. Mellon controls the others.

The draft Coolidge business was still on the fire this morning when the delegates began to wend their way to the beleaguered convention hall. But the smoke from it was growing thinner and thinner.

Even the home state delegation of 11 Pennsylvanians, who started for Kansas City determined to vote for Coolidge to the last ditch, have swung over to the Hoover cause, convinced that "I do not choose" means "I won't."

Butler To Back Hoover
William M. Butler, the national chairman, and as much of a political oracle for the president as exists in Kansas City, told his Massachusetts delegation at midnight that, in (Continued on Page 4)

Work On System Will Be Completed Next Week
Barkhoff Says

Work on the new ornamental lighting system downtown will be completed early next week, City Engineer F. S. Barkhoff announced today.

Laying of the cables for the new "white way" was completed Monday and work on the erection of the new standards to replace the old poles began Monday afternoon.

The new standards will probably all be set up by the last of this week, but the old poles will not all be taken down until next week, Barkhoff added.

Plans will be made soon for the official lighting of the white way.

Boost Home Town Is Psychologist's Plea

Pleading for the support of all local industries, business establishments, and the city government, Frank Jewell Raymond, East Orange, N. J., one of the country's leading business psychologists, delivered an impressive address at the High school auditorium, last night, under the auspices of the Mullins Foremen's club. Raymond spoke of "Making Good in the Business of Life."

"Past performances mean nothing," Raymond said. "You must deliver today; forget bygone successes. All men have plenty of brain power; what we all need is will power, which we may obtain through the mediums of success, health and resourcefulness," he added.

Here Is Program Of Opening Day At Convention

Kansas City, June 12.—The program for the opening day of the Republican national convention follows:

Called to order by Chairman William M. Butler of Massachusetts at 11 a. m. (Central Standard time).

Invocation by Bishop S. C. Patridge, (Episcopal). "The Star Spangled Banner," the convention being led by Madame Schumann-Heink.

Presentation and adoption of the temporary roll of the convention. Reading the call of the convention. Brief address by Chairman Butler.

Selection of Senator Simeon D. Fess of Ohio, as temporary chairman. Senator Fess' keynote speech. Adoption of the usual resolutions creating committees on platform, credentials, rules and order of business, and on permanent organization.

Adjournment until tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock.

ALL PLANKS BUT FARM RELIEF IN THE PLATFORM

Smoot's Draft Accepted In General By Most Party Leaders

Kansas City, June 12.—Except for farm relief the 1928 Republican platform was practically cut and dried today.

There may be a squabble over one or two planks other than the agriculture issue, but to all intents and purposes the platform will be adopted substantially as already written by Senator Smoot, Republican, of Utah, who is to be chairman of the resolutions committee. This is the opinion of leaders of various shades in the party.

The tentative platform, of about 30 planks, hews closely to the 1924 pattern. It is worthy lauds Coolidge economy and prosperity, extolls the protective tariff, favors strict law enforcement, endorses the administration's efforts to outlaw war and denounces corruption in government and elections.

Farm Plank Revamped
As originally drafted by Smoot, the farm relief plank over which the big fight has developed, promised a tariff readjustment to bring agriculture and industry more nearly on a parity. By inference, at least, it upheld President Coolidge's veto of the McNary-Haugen bill by warning the farmers the panacea for their ills did not lie in price fixing and other artificial stimulants. It turned down the proposals advocated by the militant corn belt representatives.

A copy of the Smoot draft was conveyed to Hoover, lieutenant. Word was sent back that it was too (Continued on Page 4)

Rou Keach To Fight Charges of Girl In Atlantic City Case

Detroit, June 12.—Ray Keach, Philadelphia race driver, arrested here on complaint of Miss Isabelle Olivello, 24, of Atlantic City, N. J., indicated today he would fight extradition. He is scheduled to appear in court tomorrow on a fugitive warrant.

Keach declared the charges are a screen to return him for service of papers in a $150,000 breach of promise suit filed by Miss Olivello.

Keach, who is married, said he beat Miss Olivello's charges five years ago.

Presidential Campaign Plans Made At Meeting Monday Night

At a meeting of Republican workers of Salem at the Memorial building Monday night, preliminary plans were made for an organization to conduct the presidential election campaign here during the coming month.

The meeting was called by County Chairman Elmer E. Walker, but he was unable to attend. Temporary officers were chosen and they will serve until a new central committee is elected in November. These officers are: President, E. M. Peters; secretary, C. G. McCorkhill; treasurer, Mrs. J. D. Dewees.

Petitions of candidates for central committeemen are being signed to be filed with the county election board by Thursday night, the closing time for filing of petitions.

Allan To Speak On Christian Science

Gavin W. Allan, C. S. B., Toronto, Ont., Canada, will deliver a lecture on "Christian Science," at 3:15 p. m. Sunday at the High school auditorium, under the auspices of the Salem Christian Science Society.

Allan is a member of the board of lecturers of the mother church of the society, the First Church of Christ Scientist, of Boston.

The lecture is open to the public.

Student Is Killed
Holyoke, Mass., June 12.—Robert Atkinson, 22, of Rochester, Pa., was killed and three of his classmates of the junior class at Amherst college were seriously injured today when their automobile failed to take a curve in South Hadley center.

TORNADO HITS WESTERN TOWNS

Lincoln, Neb., June 12.—A tornado, striking shortly before midnight, demolished nearly 100 homes in McCook, Neb., according to reports trickling in here this morning.

No deaths were reported. Seven persons were said to be injured, one man probably fatally.

Wires leading into the stricken town are down. Doctors and nurses are en route to it from here and other Nebraska points.

HIGHWAY HOBOS

Stretched from Maine to California and from Duluth to the Rio Grande is practically an unbroken line of young men, and not a few women, with their thumbs in the air.

Right here at home—on the highways at the edge of Salem—leading in any direction one may choose, will be found others with their thumbs in the air, and their luggage thrust aimlessly forward at the edge of the pavement.

These people with their thumbs in the air all want rides. Hoboing de luxe has reached the point where it is a most serious problem—and a problem in which the very life of the motorist himself is in danger.

Most of the automobiles one encounters these days have empty seats and amiable drivers. If the thumb happens to be attached to a fairly respectable looking customer, that customer gets a ride, and with very little pleading.

But in encouraging this sort of thing by giving lifts to thumbers on every highway in the land, are the motorists doing the hoboes a good turn? And is it worth-while for a motorist to risk his neck by picking up a man whom he does not know and who, perhaps, is a rascal of the worst stripe? Most certainly not.

Despite warnings which are issued periodically—despite stories which get into the newspapers of motorists who have been beaten and robbed and thrown from their car—other motorists continue to pick up these hoboes of the highway, and subject themselves to the self-same brutality which has been accorded others with kind hearts.

Some of these hoboes de luxe, of course, are upstanding young men on a lark. They are out for adventure. They are clean and decently dressed. But the motorist cannot distinguish between the young man who may merit a lift, and the other young man who may be thumbing a ride for the purpose of assaulting and robbing his benefactor.

Many motorists pass up all thumbs without as much as a side-long glance. If all of them would follow this practice hoboing de luxe would soon pass out and any number of automobile drivers would save themselves from robbery, or a worse fate.

THE STARS AND STRIPES

On Thursday of this week the Stars and Stripes will have attained its one hundred and fifty-first birthday. It was on April 14, 1777, that Congress adopted the Stars and Stripes as the flag of the United States.

The story surrounding Old Glory's birth always has been regarded as one of the prettiest legends in all the history of the nation. Betsy Ross is said to have sewn the first flag with her own hands. But in this day when the past of no man or woman is safe from attack, there are some who venture the assertion that Betsy Ross never existed.

However, it is appropriate that these carpenter are greatly in the minority. The public likes to think of the founders of this Republic as they are pictured in history, and so it is quite unlikely that Betsy Ross' traducers will find fertile soil anywhere for their aspersions and innuendos.

Flag Day is always appropriately remembered throughout the United States. Old Glory is flown from sunup until sundown and properly revered. Flag Day exercises are held whenever there is occasion, and veterans of all the wars solemnly stand at attention at some hour of the day in salute to the proud banner representative of the world's greatest nation.

Now is almost the time for taking out last year's straw and deciding, after all, to buy a new one.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

One of the saddest, most solitary figures on the political horizon today is that of William G. McAdoo silhouetted against the setting sun.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

What Others Say

VIRTUE IS REWARDED

Alphonse—Scarface Al—Capone of Chicago, who at times has been described as king of that city's bootleggers and has reigned as an overlord in other realms of the underworld as well, has gone into the respectable business of cleaning and dyeing. Announcement of his having been given a partnership in the Sanitary Cleaning Shops, Inc., of Chicago, goes to show that you can not keep a good man down. Hard work, perseverance, honesty, etc., count in the end and there is always plenty of room at the top. A rolling stone gathers no moss, and still waters run deep. Square pegs should not be put into round holes and opportunity knocks but once. But why did Mr. Capone choose the cleaning and dyeing business?

Morris Becker, for 42 years a leading dyer, and cleaner in Chicago, has been bedeviled almost beyond human endurance during that time by having his places of business bombed and burned, his employees slugged and robbed and threatened by his competitors. But no one has been punished. So he hit on the brilliant idea of taking Mr. Capone into business with him, in other words, of fighting fire with fire. "Now," Mr. Becker is quoted as saying, "I have no need of the state's attorney or his police department. I have the best protection in the world."

For since the partnership was announced not a threat has come to Mr. Becker, not a single bomb has been thrown, there has not been even a whisper of a beating or a shakedown. The Master Cleaners and Dyers' association, commercial rivals of Mr. Becker, did send an emissary to Mr. Becker's office to find out what it was all about. And when this ambassador arrived he was met by Mr. Capone himself who greeted him with these words: "Get outta here! You try to monkey with my business and I'll toss you outta the window!"

Mr. Becker may have solved the problem of doing business peacefully in Chicago. If he has other business institutions should adopt his procedure. Cashiers of banks, for instance, and bank runners should be chosen from the ranks of the strongest gang; the postoffice department should hire as mail clerks the most successful of Chicago's thugs, and automobile manufacturers should trust to ambitions and hard-working gunmen the ownership and operation of their agencies. Crime has been a paying business in Chicago. Why not extend its efficient methods to other forms of commercial endeavor?—Washington Star.

PERNICIOUS ANEMIA COMES ON SLOWLY

By Royal S. Copeland, M. D.
United States Senator From New York, former Commissioner of Health, New York City

Many persons know they are sick and often know what the trouble is, yet do not seek medical aid. There are a number of reasons for this decision. Sometimes it is because they fear the doctor's diagnosis, or the probability of an operation. They may be trusting to what some neighbor has suggested as a "sure cure."

Pernicious anemia is a disease not often recognized until an advanced stage has been reached. In pernicious anemia the sufferer is conscious of being below par, of having difficulty in doing the daily work, and of being extremely irritable. Despite these warnings he may be unwilling to see a doctor.

Pernicious anemia is found as an accompaniment of certain other diseases. It is really an affection of the red blood cells and the marrow of the long bones. It is brought on as the sequel to some toxic condition.

The symptoms of this trouble are somewhat indefinite. Until the disease has reached an advanced stage they are barely noticed. Then appear in rapid succession, loss of weight, palpitation of the heart, marked shortness of breath, swelling of the limbs, and perhaps of the face, and, finally, a general feeling of ill health. It is difficult for the affected one to do his work.

In certain cases there is no loss of flesh. On the contrary, the fat lies in thick folds, on the abdomen, chest and over the ribs. The character of this fat is flabby, that is,

WATCH LIBERAL VOTERS—BUTLER

Columbia President Says Parties Cannot Afford To Alienate Them

BY
DR. NICHOLAS MURRAY BUTLER
President of Columbia University and one of the country's foremost Republican leaders.
(Written exclusively for International News Service. Copyright 1928)

Kansas City, June 12.—In my judgment, the Republican party faces at this convention one of the most critical periods in its history. In many ways, this crisis is more important and more far-reaching than that of 1919 which was, at bottom, a contest very largely over personalities.

The fact of the matter is that owing to developments of the last 20-odd years, the two great professional parties—Republican and Democrat—have lost the significance which formerly attached to them.

The tariff is no longer a living issue. There are nearly as many upholders of protection in the Democratic party as in the Republican party.

Similarly, the fundamental and far-reaching financial issue has passed out of the realm of debate. The gold standard is accepted by everyone, and the federal reserve system has brought stability, permanent and elastic into our national banking and credit system. No one proposed to change it.

With these questions out of the way, every other important matter before the American people runs straight across present party lines. This is true of farm relief and agriculture policy and of confining the federal government at Washington to its own business and not permitting it to develop into a huge and all power absorbing bureaucracy. As to these matters, differences of opinion are so marked that neither party can make a definite and sincere and a conservative discussion without alienating a substantial portion of its membership.

This is why the active political leaders are so much concerned with avoiding all real issues and of confining themselves to those sonorous platitudes which give the least possible offense and make the least embarrassment for all.

It is obvious, however, that in 1928 no candidate can possibly be elected who alienates the vote of the west or that widespread liberal vote which is found throughout the country and which is controlling a dozen states normally Republican.

SACKETT SAYS HOOVER LINKS FARM AND MILL

Floor Leader Praises Him
For Aid to Agriculture
And Industry

BY SENATOR FRED A. SACKETT
(One of Herbert Hoover's Floor
Managers, and Written Exclusively for International News Service.)

Kansas City, June 12.—Herbert Hoover will be nominated and elected president of the United States because he answers above all other candidates the demand of the American people for a Republican nominee, who can maintain an alliance between agriculture and industry.

The Republican party came into existence when agriculture and industry joined forces and it was this alliance which carried the Republican party through four score years of success. Herbert Hoover is the candidate most acceptable to both groups.

The appeal which Hoover makes to the farm people, not politically minded is positively strong. They appreciate the efforts he made almost single handed in the post-armistice period, when the European nations, freed from the continuance of war, sought to break the markets of America and rob the farmers of the guarantee which the United States government had promised them as a reward for intensive production.

Points To War Contracts
The American farmers do not forget the foresight which Hoover used in dealing with those foreign cabinets and how he brought to bear

MOON MAY RECEIVE VISITOR ROCKET PLANE READY TO GO

CASSEL, Germany (IIN).—Ever since Jules Verne wrote his engaging—and purely imaginary—account of a trip to the Moon the scientists have toyed with the idea of penetrating the Earth's atmospheric belt and exploring the universe beyond.

In Switzerland, in France and in America, learned men have expressed the belief that upon certain of the planets life most assuredly exists; and they incline to the belief that if man could construct a rocket plane of sufficient power to pierce the layer of atmosphere to the ether beyond, it would be a comparatively easy matter for him to coast to one of the nearer stars.

This theory an intrepid German, Herr Anton Raab, World War ace and a constructing aviation expert, proposes to test by "shooting himself" into the air in a rocket plane of his own construction.

"I am not going to the Moon this time," Raab explained, adding that his first attempt is to be an experiment in which he himself will be a "human registering instrument." He will record the mental, nerve and heart sensations upon a human being being shot into the air at a terrific speed.

"My theory," said Raab, "is that the human mind and heart cannot stand the effect of the bullet-like velocity necessary to overcome the Earth's gravitation."

"I am inclined to believe that at a certain point during the terrific speed unconsciousness will set in, and it is with much curiosity that I am going to try the first 'shot' with myself inside the bullet."

Raab, who is in his middle thirties, is of the slender, nervous type, daringly reckless. It was he who landed his plane in the Unter den Linden in Berlin to give an American correspondent an exclusive story. And it was he, too, who cracked up a plane in the garden of the Princess Hermine of Reuss so that the same reporter could confirm the reported engagement of that royal personage to the ex-Kaiser. The story goes that Hermine was so amused by the expedition that she willingly granted an exclusive interview to the reporter regarding her royal romance.

Raab explains that his first rocket will have wings, so that he can glide safely back to Earth. In place of a motor, rockets will be built into the machine, which will be propelled by exploding gases.

GOOD MEALS TO BRING STOP TO CHICAGO CRIME

Restaurateurs Decide
That They Have Big Problem On Hands

Chicago, June 12.—Good meals—there lies the solution of Chicago's crime situation, on no less authority than the men who make good dinners and, furthermore, sell them.

They have decided, the association of Chicago restaurateurs, that there is a serious burden, bound with the happiness of the commonwealth.

A luscious porterhouse, administered at the psychological moment, they believe, will turn a man from thoughts of suicide and convince him the world's a pretty good place after all.

Chicken a la king, with the proper amount of mushrooms, will make a good girl out of a jobless young lady, when she is on the verge of seeking illegal livelihood.

At Crime Peak
Roast beef and boiled potatoes, supplied at the right time and place, will stop the crime wave at its peak.

Lobsters newburgh will turn the thoughts of a utility magnate from ten cent fares to Beethoven's Moonlight Sonata.

Most of these encouraging thoughts about cooking done by restaurants were sponsored first by J. P. Weitz, business manager of the Sales Management Magazine, speaking to a gathering of Chicago cooks and restaurant owners.

"The restaurant keeper and his cook have a grave responsibility to mankind," was the burden of Weitz's message.

"They are the fellows who have the job of making mankind good by making mankind happy. When a man comes into a restaurant, he wants not only to get some nourishment under his belt, but he wants to soothe his soul."

"A bad dinner may make a man beat his wife, fire his stenographer, kick his dog and then jump in the lake."

"But give him a good meal and he is ready to take the world to his arms."

Politics, too, may be affected by meals, especially in large cities like Chicago and New York where a large proportion of the meals are eaten in restaurants, it is pointed out.

Voting On Hamburger
"Feed a man on half raw hamburger and cheese sandwiches and if he is a Republican he will go out and vote a straight Democratic ticket."

"Give him indigestion and he will cry about the government and cheer for communism. But give him a perfect steak garnished with onions and he can't work up a bit of sweat over the terrible state of the republic."

But at least one Chicago restaurant owner believes the responsibility for eating good meals lies with the diner himself.

"Men come into a place where they can get a good meal," says Walter L. Gregory, manager of the Palmer House, "then they grab a sandwich, bolt it down and hurry out."

"What hope can you have of feeding the people right when they won't order good food you have for them?"

Private Planes Are Gaining Over Autos

London, June 12.—The day of the private airplane has come in England.

A large number of private individuals are using planes in preference to motor cars. In most cases the owners are themselves the pilot, and the craze seems to be catching on all over the country.

There are regular gathering places for light airplane owners, recalling the early days of bicycling and motorcycling. Every fine week-end, many amateur aviators with the friends and passengers may be seen at the aerial rendezvous.

The pilot-owners find the direct route from place to place in the air is much to be preferred to the crowded roads with their by no means inconsiderable dangers.

Nicaraguan Plants In Great Collection

Chicago, June 12.—Comprehensive collections of the flora of Nicaragua are being obtained for Field Museum of Natural history by a collector who is going steadily on with the work despite the difficulties placed in his way by the unsettled conditions in that country.

According to a report received at the museum, P. C. Englesing, the collector, working largely right in the heart of the territory occupied by the United States Marines in their operations against the Sandino forces, has secured a large collection of trees, shrubs, ferns, palms, plants and other botanical material, much of it rare, representative of Nicaragua.

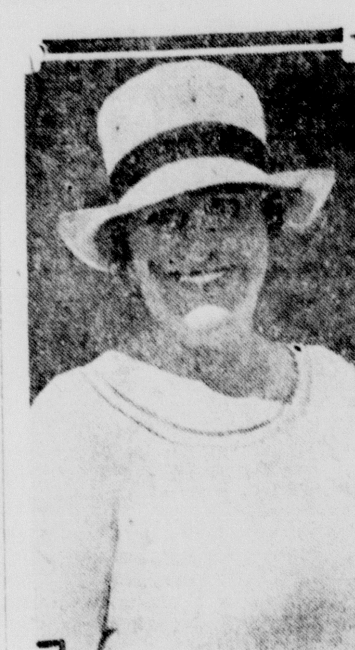

New York — His body, mind and morale worn to a frazzle by the strain of running 3,485 miles in a futile attempt to win one of C. C. Pyle's trans-continental derby cash prizes, Anthony Iselle, 28, today was in jail here as a result of an effort to take his own life.

"After being such a fool I have a right to do whatever I like with what's left of my life," were Iselle's words a few moments before his suicide attempt.

Backs Earhart Flight

Scientist Declares After Life Myth

London, June 12.—There is no survival after death.

This was the frank opinion of Sir Arthur Keith, noted British scientist, voted in a lecture at Manchester university.

"Scientific and medical men agree that there is no evidence to support the assumption that the spirit survives after the brain has ceased to function," he told his listeners.

"We can drug the brain so as to exalt the powers of certain parts, and deprive those of others, and thus alter the mental behavior of any man or woman. We can, at will, obliterate consciousness or exalt it."

"If we withhold the supply of oxygen, the sources of its energy, the brain ceases to act just as definitely as a fire ceases to burn when its supply of fuel or air ceases."

ENGLAND DROPS REALM DEFENSE ACT THIS YEAR

Citizens' Emancipation Is Now Assured; Measure
Being Repealed

London, June 12.—Hailed on all sides as the "emancipation of the British citizen," the repeal of England's famous Defense of the Realm Act now seems definitely assured.

Originally inaugurated as an economic war-time measure, this bill, which enforces the closing of shops at certain hours, and dictates certain times at which commodities may be sold, outlived its usefulness, and became the bane of existence of every citizen of England.

From the time of the repeal, Englishmen will be able to buy crackers, chocolates, cigars and similar commodities at almost any time, and the housewife will find less difficulty in finding shops open when a last minute purchase is necessary.

Ridicule In Cartoons

The Defense of the Realm Act, generally known as the D. O. R. A. was corrupted by London's ingenious cartoonists into a mythical old lady "Dora," resembling very closely the "Auntie-Everything" who has so long been at the beck and call of American caricaturists. Ever since the war, the Englishman has protested against the bill; newspapers devoted pages of space to campaigning against it, and it never failed to figure as an election issue.

As the result of these complaints, the Home Secretary, Sir William Joynson-Hicks, and the Prime Minister, Stanley Baldwin, appointed a commission to investigate the matter impartially. They were to decide upon its virtues and vices, and they returned a verdict in favor of immediate repeal of the emergency bill.

It was then announced that the repeal would be enacted into a law as soon as possible.

Effect of Repeal

Under the terms of the D. O. R. A., cigarettes could not be purchased after 8 o'clock at night. This law held out until a year ago, when automatic slot machines, placed outside cigar stores, were legalized, although the stores remained closed.

Under the old bill, chemists were not permitted to sell anything but medicinal preparations after 8 p. m. nor could any foodstuffs, except perishable goods, be sold after that hour.

The repeal is not expected to effect the laws regulating the closing of saloons. Under the present regulations, public houses are open from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. and from 5:30 p. m. to 10 p. m. In hotels and night clubs, liquor may be served until 10 o'clock with the extension of an additional hour if served with food.

Desert Police Will Have Radio Station

Jerusalem, June 12.—Wireless will be employed by the desert police on the Palestine-Egypt frontier as a means of pursuing smugglers and fugitives from justice of the two countries who find the Sinai Desert a good field for their operations.

The Egyptian government has just approved an appropriation to erect a wireless station south of the Palestine frontier.

Farmers' March Has Failed To Materialize

Kansas City, June 12.—Immediately after Pennsylvania and Massachusetts leaders threw their strength to Secretary Hoover today, the "farm bloc" began preparations for a new fight in November.

Backers of the farm movement promised the Midwest vote to the Democratic party if the Houston convention will adopt the McNary-Haugen bill.

Kansas City, June 12.—The widely heralded march of 100,000 embattled farmers on the ramparts of the Republican convention citadel had failed to materialize today.

With a big tourist park still thinly populated and the highest estimates of the farmer cohorts placed at 20,000, leaders of the movement turned to make up in "pép" what they lacked in numbers.

Hoover propaganda and too much farm work were charged by the farm leaders for the situation.

100,000 Cowboy Hats Shipped To Texans From Eastern State

Haverhill, Mass., June 12.—More than 100,000 felt "cowboy" hats were shipped to Texas, Arizona, and Oklahoma dealers last year from this city. The five gallon hat is apparently merely a figure of speech, for the majority of hats ordered were size 7 or smaller.

The hat industry, established in Haverhill in 1925, is now manufacturing more than 1,250,000 hats of all kinds annually, according to the chamber of commerce officials.

LATEST PICTURE OF INFANTE JAIME

When the rumor that King Alfonso intended to petition His Holiness, the Pope, for an annulment of his marriage to Queen Victoria reached the Infante Jaime, oldest son of the royal couple, he greeted it with open-mouthed astonishment. The infante (in uniform) is here shown with Captain Antelo, his mentor and constant companion.

HERBERT HOOVER

all the power of this government to force them to live up to contracts made during the war. They do not forget how Hoover led the campaign which forced the European cabinets to abandon their blockade of Germany, which opened the enemy markets to the products of American farms. These two things maintained the price level of farm products above the congressional guarantee and absorbed at a profit to the farmers, the excess production in all grains and livestock products, which the patriotism of the American farmer had provided in enormous quantities to insure the feeding of the allied countries, if the war had continued.

The highest prices for hog products which the country had ever known were maintained all through Hoover's administrative period, in those broad sections of the country, which are the corn and hog regions of the country. The real farmers of America recognize without question the policies, created and administered by Herbert Hoover, produced the greatest period of prosperity that agriculture had ever experienced and aside from those interested in political aspects, it is perfectly evident that the dirt farmers of America stand loyally by the intelligent leadership which Hoover displayed in that trying period.

Needs Good Leadership

The problem of the farmer is a business problem, possibly the most complicated of our economic questions. It needs the best constructive leadership that the country can produce to apply industrial methods to agricultural production and marketing. Herbert Hoover's outstanding genius in that regard is the strongest hope for a prompt solution, upon sound foundations, of the distressing conditions that have been prevalent far too long in the agrarian communities of our country.

American business is convinced that Herbert Hoover's record in building the great department of commerce, which has increased American trade throughout the world, is the best assurance that his broad policies and leadership will continue prosperity in America.

For these reasons, agriculture and industry have joined in endorsing the Hoover candidacy, and for these reasons, maybe Hoover will be nominated this week by the Republican National convention.

SOCIETY

Luther League Meets

Members of the Luther League of the English Lutheran church held a business meeting Monday evening at the home of Miss Ethel Moul, North Union ave. Three new members were added at this meeting. It was decided to discontinue the weekly devotional meetings during the summer and to hold a meeting each month with a devotional period.

Committees were appointed to plan for a lawn fete, to take charge of the banner contest, and to arrange for a reception for the confirmation class.

Plans were made to send a delegate to the state convention at Lakeside July 23-29 and to have a large representation from the Salem league at the Federation picnic at Lake Placid, June 23.

After the business meeting a social period was enjoyed and games, contests and music entertained. Prizes in the contests were awarded to Rev. and Mrs. G. D. Keister and Miss Mirtie Ross. At the close of the evening a lunch was served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be the second Monday in July at the home of Mrs. Mabel Schlotter, East High st.

Marriage Licenses

A marriage license has been issued to Lester Huston, a bookkeeper residing at East Liverpool and Miss Thelma Wright, a piano teacher, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Wright of East Liverpool. They are to be married by Rev. Cheeks of the Calcutta U. P. church.

William Snyder of East Liverpool and Miss Mildred C. Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Hill of East Liverpool have secured a marriage license, and are to be married by Rev. Benedum of the East Liverpool Nazarene church.

Harold E. Brozka, a postoffice clerk at East Liverpool and Miss Ethel K. Sanford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Sanford also of East Liverpool have obtained a marriage license. They are to be married by Rev. Maurer.

Celebrates Anniversaries

Monday marked the birthday anniversaries of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Herbert, of Newgarden st., and to make happy the event the members of the Men's and Women's Bible classes of the First Friends church, taught by H. P. Litt and Mrs. C. E. Haworth, respectively, complimented them with a surprise party last evening at their home. The event was arranged by their daughters, Misses Maude and Mary Herbert.

Games were the chief diversion of the evening of pleasure. The Women's class presented the honorees a beautiful picture. Mrs. Haworth made the presentation speech, and each also received other gifts. Delicious refreshments were served.

Delphian Society

The Delphian society held its final meeting of the season Monday evening at the Memorial building. At this time it was planned to have a dinner party Monday evening, June 25, at the Quaker Tea House, McKinley ave., this party to take the place of the proposed picnic.

The year books were distributed at this session. The subject study for next season is "Modern Nations."

Betsy Ross Club

Nomination of officers will claim attention at a meeting of the Betsy Ross club Tuesday evening at the hall, Main st., and all members are asked to be present.

Following the business session there will be a birthday party and lunch.

Agoga Class

The Agoga class of the First Baptist church met Monday evening at the home of Robert Eddy, Newgarden rd. The members devoted some time to playing ball and enjoyed a wicker roast.

Debate Team's Reunion

Members of the debating team of 1927 of Salem High school and their invited guests will hold a reunion at 6 p. m., Thursday at Eagleton's Glens.

Walter Wiffler, assistant coach in the Salem High school, left Sunday for Detroit enroute to his home in Arcadia, Wis. Mr. Wiffler, who has resigned his position at the school here, made many friends during the two years he was in Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Harmony and daughter, Jean, of Viroqua, Wis., and Mrs. John Gaustad of Eau Claire, Wis., will arrive Wednesday in Salem, where they will spend 10 days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Gaustad, Lundy st.

Mrs. Sarah Koppelman of Cleveland has returned to her home after spending ten days with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Goldberg, South Union ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Maas of Chicago are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Gaustad, Lundy st. They have just completed a tour of New England and will return soon to their home.

Mrs. R. C. Miller and family of Columbiana and Mrs. Lert Beck, Georgetown rd. are spending a few days in Coshocton. From there they will go to Crooksville for a few days visit.

T. B. Seekins and daughter, Flora, left Tuesday morning for Week-Miles, Maine, having been called there on account of the illness of Mr. Seekins' father.

Miss L. K. Kertell, of Philadelphia is the guest of Miss Mary Townsend, Garfield ave.

Auxiliary Anniversary

Final arrangements were made Monday evening at a meeting of the hospitality committee of the Sons of Veterans auxiliary for celebrating their 25th anniversary. A dinner will be held at 6 p. m. Wednesday at the hall, Main st., after which a program will entertain. All members of the Grand Army, the Sons of Veterans and the auxiliary are invited.

Three Links Club

There were about 60 in attendance at the covered dish supper held Monday evening at the I. O. O. F. hall for members of the Three Links Social club and their families. After the supper a club dance was held.

The club's annual picnic will be held June 24 at Sevakken lake.

Helping Hand Class

Members of the Helping Hand class of the Methodist church will hold their monthly meeting at 2 p. m. Thursday at the church. All members are requested to be present.

Miss Alice Penrose, of New York City, who has been visiting in Damascus and Salem, was a guest Monday of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hole, Ellsworth rd. Miss Penrose has gone to Cleveland and from there will return home.

Mrs. John Auld, of East Seventh st., has entered the Central Clinic hospital for surgical treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Herbert and Mr. and Mrs. Loren Herbert are visiting in Illinois.

HOOVER

(Continued from Page 1) his opinion, it was useless to think of drafting Mr. Coolidge, Butler and the whole Bay state delegation plan to vote for Hoover from the first ballot onward.

Senator William E. Borah of Idaho was busily engaged in telling all and sundry that the drafting of Coolidge would be a highly dangerous thing from a gold-blooded party viewpoint as it would lay the president open to the charge of insincerity and tricky dealing.

And so it went all down the line. Nowhere, seemingly, could the desperately maneuvering coalition leaders against Hoover find much comfort. Their one big bet for days has been Mellon and his Pennsylvanians, and Vane's announcement at least partially knocked their hopes in that direction, galley-west.

Allies Refuse To Give Up

But they refuse to give up. The allied captains of Lowden, Watson, Curtis and Goff figure they have two days more in which to turn the tide. And so the conferences continue, the buttonholing of delegates goes on, and the talk of trade and bolt and compromise fills the smoky, stuffy air of the hotels.

The conferences of the allies continued throughout the night. The Vane announcement was a hard blow.

The secretary of the treasury was being urged by several influential Republicans on the spot here to attempt to draw some expression from Mr. Coolidge as to whether he flatly would or would not accept a nomination at the hands of this convention.

"You can talk to the president," Mellon was told. "You can say to him that there is a situation here of real peril to the party that has so honored him. You can say to him that there does exist here a doubt on the part of many of his sincere friends as to his real wishes in this matter, and that a word from him will clear up the whole ugly situation. He can be nominated in a twinkling for the asking."

ALL PLANKS

Hoover idea to prevail. It is now the policy of the Hoover people to offer an affirmative farm program based on the principles of the so-called Jardine cooperative marketing aid plan. This is an effort to convince the farmers that they can count on assistance from an administration headed by Hoover.

The Hoover idea is expected to prevail finally in the platform, especially as Hoover leaders are claiming they will have a majority on the resolutions committee. Members of the committee are being carefully selected.

It was learned today that recently in Washington Secretaries Hoover, Jardine and Mellon conferred on farm relief. They agreed on the general terms of an agricultural program. Mellon, however, was understood to have opposed specific endorsement of any particular form of relief.

There Will Be Fight

The general idea was laid before President Coolidge but he did not publicly approve the plan as a substitute for the vetoed McNary-Haugen bill. Jardine, who is assisting in drafting the plank, has circulated copies of the program among leaders here.

No doubt the farm plank cannot be adopted without a struggle. The allies against Hoover have made their bid on the basis of agrarian unrest. They have fought for the equalization fee and they are determined, if possible, to have that principle included in the platform even if not mentioning it by name. The more militant elements would specifically endorse the McNary bill.

FESS SOUNDS THE KEYNOTE OF THE PARTY

interpreted by many of his friends in spite of the fact that his nomination and election would be a foregone conclusion did he not forbid.

Greatest Force In World

"This hold upon the confidence of the American people of every name, class and creed, without regard to partisan feeling, makes Calvin Coolidge the greatest person and political force in the world today."

Senator Fess studiously avoided mentioning prohibition by name, but he made it clear that the Republican party is a dry party. His allusion to prohibition was veiled but pointed, in that section of his speech devoted to "law enforcement." After calling for more universal respect for the law, he said: "No backward step can be tolerated upon whatever pretext which would permit a noisy minority to exploit the great mass of our population. All over the earth, led by our own example, there has burned into national consciousness the conviction that this policy and program of human conservatism must not be scuttled."

Not Question of Liberty

"It is not a question of tolerance or of liberty, but of life, both individual and national. The Republican party is ready to call the roll on this false doctrine masquerading under the mask of liberty. It is ready to sound the moral tocsin against the present campaign of noise-making minority whether in the interest of business profit or mere human indulgence. It stands for respect for law. It condemns the violation of law."

Senator Fess made it emphatically clear that the party is willing to stand or fall on the record of the Coolidge administration and in this connection he rebuked the farm rebels in the party by approving the sentiments expressed in Mr. Coolidge's veto of the McNary-Haugen bill. He echoed a number of the president's veto arguments, and at the same time highly praised the administration's agricultural record, which, he said, contained "the enactment of no less than 24 separate pieces of constructive and remedial legislation covering every phase of the agricultural problem."

But it was upon the prosperous condition of the country since the Republicans returned to power seven years ago that the Ohio senator placed most emphasis. "Greatest Prosperity Ever" "Today," he said, "we are in the longest period of sustained business prosperity in our history."

Going into details, then, Senator Fess sketched the business depression that immediately followed the war, dwelt upon the enormous public debt and burdensome high taxes, the disarrangement of the whole economic and business structure of the country, and asserted that the Republican party had rescued the nation from that slough.

The public debt has been reduced eight and one-half billions of dollars since 1921, he said, at the same time that taxes were being reduced nearly $2,000,000,000 a year, and the country being made prosperous.

"The accomplishment," he asserted, "was not the result of accident, but rather of management."

Under it, he continued, the American standard of living has been raised to the highest level in the world's history and kept there. By way of comparison he referred to "the regrettable experience of Grover Cleveland in his tariff-for-revenue-only policy and the long line of soup houses."

Compliments Four Men

Senator Fess mentioned no candidate by name—unless President Coolidge can be considered in that category. But he did pay indirect compliments to Herbert Hoover, Andrew W. Mellon, Charles E. Hughes and Charles G. Dawes.

He praised the work of the department of commerce in the development of radio and commercial aviation under Hoover, he spoke in flowing terms of the treasury record; he told how American statesmanship has made itself felt in the rehabilitation and peace of Europe through the Dawes plan and the Locarno pacts.

Foreign relations came in for considerable, though unsensational comment. He avoided any reference to the world court, which the Harding-Coolidge administration sponsored and which the Republican leadership of the senate defeated. He reaffirmed Republican opposition to America's entering the league of nations, praised the state department's efforts to "outlaw war" by treaties, and defended staunchly the Coolidge policy of sending marines to the little banana republics of Central America.

He denied the marines were in Nicaragua and Hayti for any imperialistic purposes, and asserted they would be withdrawn when the need for their presence was no longer felt.

On the whole, he told the delegates, the party record has been one of outstanding success and accomplishment, and it is upon that record that the Republicans should seek a new lease of power.

POLICE HOLD

Tried to Conceal Goods Patterson is believed by the police to have instigated the robbery, later turning over the goods to Mrs. Hazlett, and made arrangements to go to Toledo with them. Mrs. Hazlett, at the patrolmen's arrival, tried to conceal the goods, but failed. The dress was found in her pocketbook even if not mentioning it by name. The more militant elements would specifically endorse the McNary bill.

A search will be made today by Salem patrolmen of the rooms rented by the trio while staying in Salem.

ANDREW W. MELLON Pennsylvania delegation on Mellon's suggestion, and it resulted in 79 affirmative votes and not a single dissenter.

Neither Mellon nor Butler would admit having received any direct word from the White House. Butler said he was merely stating "my opinion."

Mellon, however, said that he based his opinion upon a conversation which he had with President Coolidge shortly before he left Washington.

White House Silent

Washington, June 12.—The White House remained silent today on the question of President Coolidge's availability for the Republican nomination despite convention rumors that the president might break his silence.

There was every indication that there will be no statement to add to the "I do not choose" epigram of last summer.

Executive offices officials thought it very doubtful that Mr. Coolidge through Chairman Butler, Secretary Sanders or any one else, would give the convention additional light on his position.

They were unanimous however in their conviction that the president was sincere when he said that he did not wish to be a candidate and they foresew no change in his position.

COOPER JOINS HOOVER FOLKS

Ohioan Changes stand and Dons Badge; Mysterious Pamphlet Out

Kansas City, June 12.—Representative John Cooper of Ohio, the chairman and the only member of the Ohio congressional delegation to remain neutral during the Willis-Hoover fight, has joined Hoover forces. He donned the Hoover badge and is active at headquarters.

Hoover will get 31 Ohio votes on the first ballot, with Coolidge 5, Curtis 3, Hughes 2, and Lowden 10, a caucus canvass disclosed.

Representative Theodore Burton was named chairman of the delegation but election of members of the national committee was deferred until after the convention nominations.

Kansas City, June 12.—A mysterious pamphlet proposing Secretary Mellon for president and Senator Watson of Indiana for vice-president, was widely distributed here today.

One I. A. Smith was represented as the author but both Mellon and Watson headquarters denied having a hand in it.

The ticket was hailed as an alliance of "the industrial east and agricultural west."

Kansas City, June 12.—Hoover forces have turned to community singing instead of old-time torch light parades for convention fireworks.

"Sandy" Sinclair, famous song leader, is in charge of the singing at Hoover headquarters.

The Westbranch, Iowa, Glee club from Hoover's home town—was to perform today.

Kansas City, June 12.—Virginia's 15 votes in the Republican National committee will be cast for Herbert Hoover, it was decided at a caucus of the convention delegates from that state.

Kansas City, June 12.—The Minnesota delegation will cast 21 votes for ex-Governor Lowden and 6 for Secretary Hoover.

MARX CABINET RESIGNS TODAY

Hermann Mueller Named Chancellor; Forming New Coalition

Berlin, June 12.—The Marx cabinet resigned today and immediately afterward President Von Hindenburg offered the chancellorship to Hermann Mueller, Socialist and former chancellor of Germany.

Herr Mueller accepted the commission to form a new cabinet and began holding conferences with political leaders concerning the personnel of the next government.

It is understood it will be a tri-party coalition, containing Socialists, Democrats and at least one member of the German People's party.

The Marx cabinet resigned as a result of the defeat in the recent general election.

To Die In Chair

Columbus, June 12.—John Bradshaw, 42, negro today was found guilty and sentenced to death in the electric chair, September 29, next, for the murder of Katie Young, negroess, by the common pleas court here.

Markets

MOTORS WEAK
New York, June 12.—Weakness in the motor stocks was the feature of an irregular market at the opening today. Chrysler Motor dropped 2 1/2 points to 67 1/2 for a block of 10,000 shares; Studebaker was down nearly 2 points at 67 1/2; Hudson lost 1 1/2 at 84; and fractional losses were recorded in General Motors, Hupp and Nash. Allied Chemical sold down 2 1/2 points at 107 1/2; U. S. Steel was down 1/4 at 81 and New York Central down 1/2 at 171 1/2.

Monday's closing reaction in the principal security markets of the country induced or forced heavy selling in the market favorites in the first period today, and prices for the principal motor, steel and copper stocks reacted to lower levels. The call loan market showed the effects of withdrawals of funds by the local banks and the renewal rate was unchanged at 6 per cent.

Wall Street was in close touch with the hourly developments in Kansas City. Support for some of the active stocks was attributed to the Hoover boosters, while liquidation in other sections of the market was stimulated by the same cause. After the first half-hour the shorts started to cover, and the decline in the market leaders was halted.

Selling of the motor stocks accompanied statements to the effect that the manufacturers are now entering the season of tight competition, when sales resistance will be encountered in larger volume. Chrysler's new decline to 68 brought that stock down 20 points from the high of last week and reflects in some measure the dissatisfaction among Chrysler stockholders over the merger with the Dodge company. General Motors rallied about a point in the first hour, but the balance of the motor list was dull and reactionary.

Fractional recoveries were recorded in a few of the industrial and railroad stocks in the second hour, but against the flood of selling orders which poured into the market, very little progress could be made. Commodities markets were unsettled, though cotton recovered the loss of 50 cents a bale sustained in the first hour.

NEW DARLINGTON PLANT PLANNED

Second Fireproofing Company May Be Formed Near Palestine

Interests closely associated with the Darlington Fireproofing Co. propose to form a new corporation and erect a second plant in Pennsylvania just over the Ohio-Pennsylvania state line opposite Middleton township. It has just been announced.

The company that placed the first unit in operation a few months ago is an Ohio corporation.

Between $400,000 and $500,000 will be spent in new plant buildings and equipment, the management of the Darlington company has indicated.

The Darlington company shipped 55 cars of ware from its plant in April, these being the first shipments, and the June shipments will exceed 100 cars.

The new plant will be located close to the new rail line that is proposed to be built between Youngstown and Smith's Ferry, Pa., application for which grant was recently given a public hearing before the interstate commerce commission at Washington.

Sufficient clay is available to supply both plants for a long period. Practically all employees of the present plant and of the one that is proposed are from Middleton township and reside mainly at Negley and East Palestine.

BEFORE SHE THOUGHT OF FLYING!

Little Miss Amelia Earhart, 3, shown here with her sister, Muriel, 9 months, wasn't thinking about such things as flying when this picture was made by the family photographer. In all probability her dollie was the chief concern of "Lady Lindy," with playing at housekeeping running second in interest. The above study is from the treasured album of the girl fier's proud mother.

GRANGE PICNIC SET FOR AUG. 11

Tri-County Outing Will Be Held at Placencia; Arrange Program

What promises to be the biggest event in grange circles in this section this summer is the second annual tri-county grange picnic to be held Saturday, August 11, at Lake Placencia, North Georgetown.

Preliminary plans for this event were made Monday evening when committees representing Columbiana, Mahoning and Stark counties Pomona granges met in Salem.

J. Glen Bates, of Perry grange, was elected chairman of the general committee and Almyra Pontius, of Canton, was chosen secretary.

Sub-committees include: Advertising, C. S. French, Mahoning county; Robert Shoemaker, Stark county; Clyde Temple, Columbiana county. Program, D. R. McConnell, Mahoning county; B. J. Cobbs, Columbiana county; Rev. D. F. Eckert, of Stark county. Sports, J. C. Hedge, Mahoning county; Charles Hoyle, Columbiana county; George Wyner, Stark county.

A program of sports will entertain in the morning. After dinner there will be a cow calling contest for the men and a husband calling contest for the women, and it is expected that these features will afford plenty of merriment.

The state grange will provide a speaker of note for this occasion and his name to be announced later. There will be music by local persons.

Following the program three baseball games will be played by teams picked from the married and unmarried men of the different counties.

The general committee will have its next meeting on July 20 at Fairmount grange hall, south of Alliance.

COURT NEWS

Grant Restraining Order
A temporary restraining order has been granted without bond in the cross petition filed by the defendant in the divorce action recently filed in common pleas court by John Lowsha against his wife, Mary Lowsha. The restraining order prevents the plaintiff from disposing of any property until after the case has been finally heard by the court.

Case Dismissed
For lack of prosecution the case of Sarah S. Sator against Emmett L. Thomas has been dismissed by Judge W. F. Loner. The case was filed Dec. 27, 1921 and only once in the remaining years was an effort ever made to continue the action.

Must Pay Alimony
Following a hearing on a motion for temporary alimony in the divorce case filed by Richard M. Guidley against Audrey E. Guidley, the court has ordered the plaintiff to pay the defendant $50 within four weeks, and $4 per week for the support of a minor child. The court has also granted the defendant the custody of a child during the pendency of the case.

Withdraws Answer
Dean Groner, formerly of Salem, defendant in an action filed against him by the Schaefer-Black company, of Alliance has withdrawn his answer in this case and the court has entered a judgment by default against him for $202.68. The case was carried to common pleas on appeal from a Salem court.

Would Dissolve Company
An application has been filed in common pleas court seeking a court order to dissolve the Anderson-Cain Oil & Gas Co. of East Liverpool, the petition being filed by Atty. Harry Brokaw and signed by T. V. Milligan as president of the company.

The directors of the company are S. L. Coventry, J. W. Manor, T. F. Cain, T. V. Milligan, John C. Cain.

LABOR DEMANDS BEER AND WINE

Five-Hour Day Also Put On 'Required List' By Union Chief

BY WILLIAM GREEN
President of the American Federation of Labor.

Kansas City, June 12.—Organized labor will make its first bid this week to have the five-day week incorporated in a national political platform as a universally accepted ideal of the American worker.

This is the only one of the planks which the American Federation of Labor will fight to have set into the Republican platform, but it is the most important in that it represents an advance in American labor standards which no other body of union workers in the world has definitely proclaimed as a permanent policy.

The executive council of the federation recognized at its Detroit convention two years ago that the five-day week must come by degrees—plant by plant and industry by industry. It has been consistently applied in this way with gratifying results and every month brings new adherents to the ideal. We shall seek here to have the principle extended to all employees of the federal government.

Federation conventions have opposed the Volstead act since it was spread upon the statute books more than eight years ago. Our committee here is again under instructions to work for the modification of the prohibition law with all the vigor at its command.

Organized labor demands light wines and beer. It does not seek repeal of the 18th amendment. But it has spoken without equivocation for a redefinition of intoxicants under the Volstead act. Our conventions have demanded wines and beers up to two-and-three quarters per cent alcoholic content. We shall demand that in the Republican platform.

Labor endorses no candidates. It adheres to its traditional policy of non-partisan activity. It will support the friends of labor wherever they appear and oppose reactionary and unsound political and economic policies by whomsoever advocated.

ORDINANCE NO. 280501-A
T. H. GAGGER, Mayor, do hereby ordain, that the ordinance passed by the Council of the City of Salem, Ohio, on the 15th day of February, 1928, providing for the issuance of notes of the City of Salem, in anticipation of the issuance of bonds for the purpose of constructing, building and equipping a disposal plant for the City of Salem, Ohio, and declaring the necessity of issuing bonds for such purpose.

NOW THEREFORE
Be it ordained by the Council of the City of Salem, State of Ohio: Section 1. That Section 4 of Ordinance No. 280297 reading as follows: Section 4. That such anticipatory notes in the amount of $150,000.00, which sum does not exceed the amount of the bond issue, shall be issued bearing interest at the rate of five per centum per annum payable semi-annually. Such notes shall be dated the first day of April, 1928, and shall mature on the first day of April, 1930, provided, however, that such notes shall be redeemable at any interest period. Such notes shall be executed and delivered in such number and such denominations as may be required by the purchaser of said notes.

Section 2. That such anticipatory notes in the amount of $150,000.00, which sum does not exceed the amount of the bond issue, shall be issued bearing interest at the rate of five per centum per annum, payable at maturity. Such notes shall be dated the 15th day of May, 1928, and shall mature on the 15th day of May, 1930. Such notes shall be executed and delivered in such number and such denominations as may be required by the purchaser of said notes.

Section 3. That this ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

Passed May 1, 1928.
H. A. GAGGER, President of Council.
Approved May 1, 1928.

SOLIDIFY PARTY WITH CURTIS IS PLEA OF CAPPER

Farm Bloc Leader Backs
Kansas for Nominee;
Record Praised

BY SENATOR ARTHUR CAPPER
Leader of the state farm bloc and staunch supporter of Curtis

Kansas City, June 12.—The nomination of Charles Curtis for president of the United States would solidify the Republican party, heal all chasms and insure us a sweeping victory in November.

Out of the series of conferences being held today as the convention approaches I am certain there will come an agreement to nominate Curtis. The Republican party must have a united front and Curtis is the man to bring harmony and victory.

All factions can compromise upon this stalwart Republican leader of the senate. His record has been one of loyal service to his party and

SEN. CHARLES CURTIS country. He has been an outspoken friend of the farmers; he has safeguarded the rights of legitimate business. He has helped to develop American industry. He has the broad experience, the executive capacity and the intellectual qualifications to fill the presidency with honor and distinction.

Could Carry Farm States

The farm issue will be raised in the November campaign. If the Republican party is to win, it must carry the normally Republican agricultural states of the middle-west. No man is more fitted for this task than Senator Curtis. His career has been devoted, too, to aiding labor. The working man looks upon him as a friend. Thus, the farmer, the laborer, the business man and the banker join in endorsing his candidacy. The Republican party should heed such a call I predict it will.

On law enforcement, Senator Curtis' record is excellent from a Republican standpoint. He made a record in his home city of Topeka which would satisfy every believer in law enforcement.

Throughout the middle west there is a feeling too that our section of the country should have a larger voice in the management of the government. Curtis would answer that demand.

This son of the plains is not too conservative for the liberals and not so radical as to lose conservative support. He is acquainted with the problems of the east and yet he was raised in the west.

The Kansas sentiment is that America needs a westerner for president. She has preferred Charles Curtis. I believe the Republican party, in order to guarantee victory in November, will choose her favorite son as its nominee.

Road Bonds Sold At Saving On Interest

On a premium bid of $425, the county commissioners have awarded $369,000 4 1/2 per cent bonds to the Continental Co. Chicago. Only one bid was received and this was a premium of $936 for 4 1/2 per cent bonds, submitted by Harlick & Co. of Cleveland.

Although six interests were prepared to submit bids for the issue, no tenders were made after the $425 proposal was made for the low interest rate bond.

The bonds were advertised as a 5 per cent issue, and the sale at 4 1/2 per cent means a saving of one-half per cent per year to the county.

The issue is a part of the $950,000 authorized by vote several years ago for new road purposes, and the sale of this part of the issue is one of the best ever made in the history of the county.

Attend Alliance Service

J. C. Barchy and Paul S. Barchy of Salem attended a memorial service for dead past masters, and a reunion of the candidates they had initiated which was held Monday evening by Conrad lodge of Masons in Alliance. The memorial address was given by Frank A. Justice of Youngstown.

An interesting feature of the meeting was the presence of Caleb Barchy who has been a member of Conrad lodge for 33 years. His three sons, J. C. Barchy of Salem; Roy Barchy of Beloit and Lester Barchy of New Brighton, Pa., and his grandson, Paul S. Barchy of Salem, were also present. Talks were given by both Caleb Barchy and J. C. Barchy in which many interesting events in their Masonic lives were recalled.

After the service a lunch was served.

Daughters of Veterans

Mary Ellet, tent No. 70, Daughters of Union Veterans, celebrated Flag Day with an appropriate program at a meeting Monday evening at the hall, Main st., which was well attended.

At this time invitations were accepted from the Women's Relief corps to its Flag Day celebration Tuesday evening, and from the Elks lodge to its Flag Day observance Thursday evening.

The tent will send a delegation to the department encampment at Lancaster, which convenes next week. It was planned to celebrate the fourth anniversary of the organization of the tent here at the next meeting on June 25, with a covered dish supper at 6:30 o'clock for the members and their families. There will be a program.

Gold Star Auxiliary

One application for membership was received at a meeting of the Gold Star auxiliary of Veterans of Foreign wars held Monday evening at the post's rooms on Main st.

Mrs. James Rhodes was elected delegate to the state encampment to be held at Columbus June 14, 15 and 16. Mrs. Thomas Thompson received the Good Cheer package.

The next meeting will be held June 25.

City Hospital Notes

Six Salem children had their tonsils removed at the Salem city hospital Tuesday morning. They are: Helen, Mary Louis, David and Robert Powers and Leonard Yates.

Mary Edgerton, of Hanoverton, has entered the hospital for surgical treatment.

Erma Heston, of Columbiana, a patient at the hospital, has been discharged.

Knights of Pythias

Salem lodge No. 142, Knights of Pythias, and the K. of P. lodge at Lisbon are having a card tournament and members of Salem lodge will go to Lisbon Wednesday evening to play one of the series of games in this tournament.

The regular meeting of Salem lodge was held Monday evening.

Rumors Afloat Say Jack And Gene To Clash In Montreal

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, June 12.—Local die-hards, who somehow can't get the notion out of their heads that Miss Taylor's husband is a prize fighter, were up and alive again today with the story that either Toronto or Montreal will see Jack Dempsey in a revival of "the Kid's last fight," with appropriate gestures, late in September of this year.

Tex Rickard will be the promoter, they say, and of course Brother Tunney, the upholder of humanity, is to be in there spreading the gospel of clean living and Dempseys all over the canvas.

It seems useless for Rickard to affirm and re-affirm that Dempsey has retired, for Dempsey to admit and even insist upon it himself and for Brother Tunney to announce that he is off for a tour of the world directly after the Heeneys business. The die-hards—and their number is becoming greater as time goes on—simply act very superior and think up a new Dempsey rumor.

This one today, however, appears to have considerably more solidity than the usual backstairs stuff. It is supported, in fact, rather guardedly by one of Rickard's associates, who was cautious enough, however, not to commit himself on anything definite, and the understanding is that Rickard had a conference last night with a representative of the National Boxing association, which has control of the Canadian territory.

Personally, although I regard Dempsey's announcements of retirement as being almost absolute proof that he will be back in there some time neatly parrying with his chin. I cannot see how the three boy friends can blandly put on their show this year without embarrassing themselves no end.

They have declared Dempsey out so often and so heatedly that to bring him back immediately would be to lay themselves open to ridicule and worse. If only for the sake of their reputations for veracity, it would seem necessary to keep Dempsey on ice for at least a decent interval.

The only trouble with this program is that our John may not "keep" indefinitely. Benny Leonard could have had $200,000 to come back any time during the first year he was out but now, when he wants to come back, Rickard's offer has been cut to $50,000. The same thing, in proportion to his drawing ability, can happen to Dempsey, and Rickard is well aware of the fact.

Rules For Autoists

Visiting Border Aid Customs Officials

Chicago, June 12.—Three rules for motorists to aid in facilitating passage through the American customs at the United States Canadian border have been recommended by the Chicago Motor club after conference with customs officials.

The rules are:
Motorists should stay in their cars. The law requires every automobile passenger to remain with the machine in which he or she is riding.

Cars should be kept in line. This prevents traffic congestion, which causes inconvenience and discomfort to other motorists.

The motorist should be sure to have his state license certificate readily available. The information which it contains is necessary in filling out entrance blanks.

"These simple rules concern only the motorist and should not be mistaken for international law," customs officials pointed out. "They are the rules of the road which, if followed, will make it easy for the international motorist to cross the line, and prevent congestion which in the past has caused long delays and inconvenience."

HEENEY SETTLES DOWN TO WORK

New Zealander's Address Now Is Rumson Farm; Manager Peeved

New York, June 12.—The address of Thomas Heenev from now until July 26, is Fairhaven, New Jersey, care of the Rumson farm.

The heavyweight challenger settled down in that beautiful spot and probably will do his first boxing Thursday when Commodore Tex Rickard will sail his yacht, the Maxine, down the bay from New York and up the Shrewsbury river to the Rumson farm landing.

Heenev is well pleased with his quarters, he has ideal surroundings and facilities for both outdoor and indoor boxing. Tom went on the road early this morning for the first time to get acquainted with his surroundings.

Charles Harvey, one of the New Zealander's managers, is incensed over the charge that Heenev is nothing but a "sitting" challenger and that Tom hasn't done any real work so far. These charges are made by an expert who insists Tunney is always on his feet and runs every day.

"That's a fine gag for any friend of Tunney to pull on Heenev," Harvey roared. "Why that Tunney has been sitting ever since the seventh round in Chicago last fall. What was he doing while Tom was training and fighting all last winter I'll tell you. He was just sitting around with those millionaires at Miami Beach. And what is he doing now? He's sitting around with a stone bruise on his heel and a book in his hand."

How Many Horns Are Needed On Auto?

Chicago, June 12.—"How many horns does an automobile need and if more than one, what for?"

The question is asked by the Chicago Motor club, and here is the reason. The club made an investigation for its own information and found that while in the United States, automobiles carry only one warning signal, cars in other countries are equipped with several.

"In Venezuela, two horns are required for each automobile, a hand horn for the city and an electrical horn for the country. 'Actual practice shows that passenger cars in that country have three horns two electrical and one hand operated.'

One of the electrical horns is on the steering wheel, while the other is to the left of the driver's knee, for use on mountain roads."

The Motor club, however, does not consider it necessary for an automobile to carry a bevy of horns.

The Children's meeting at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening was well attended.

London Exchange To Restrict Membership

London, June 12.—Members of the London Stock Exchange are being canvassed to give their support to a proposal which would restrict membership to 4,100.

Membership of the Exchange is growing weekly, and it is contended that an ever-growing list is not conducive to the welfare of existing members.

A certain number of clerks are able to become members each year without nomination by paying an entrance fee of $1,750. The present value of nominations is about $4,000, a ridiculously small figure when compared with prices of New York Exchange seats.

Interesting Bits of News from Cities Of Europe

Paris, June 12.—"America is far behind France in matters of modern house decorations," says Paul Brandt, well-known French artist exhibiting at the Salon des Arts Decoratifs.

"Americans are too fond of 'period' furniture and furnishings which are not in harmony with their up-to-date modern houses. It is not in keeping, either, with the busy, stirring life of the twentieth century. This modern age calls for a certain type of house decoration which necessarily cannot be the same as in the days of Louis XIV or Napoleon."

The French who are very often slow to adopt modern ways and appliances, have made great strides in this line, as a mere glance at the Salon will prove. House furnishings are simple and massive, but not bulky, restful to the eye and easily cleaned and cared for. Chairs are made for the tired business-man, as well as soft, shaded lighting systems in which the French undoubtedly excel.

"That is another point," continues Monsieur Brandt. "You Americans have too many bridge-lamps which ruin your eyes."

Indirect lighting is used entirely in the rooms of the Salon, with here and there ingenious corner fixtures of soft, opaque glass.

One of the most curious exhibitions is that of a house with no doors. All the rooms open into one, in Japanese style and the bedrooms are separated only by large curtains. The original heating system is made by means of the stairway railings and curtain-rods.

In the section of modern jewelry, the return of the pearl is seen up to the present time, it has been little used in modern designs. Lapis lazuli, brilliants, onyx and a large pearl are combined to make some striking rings and bracelets which show a new process of invisible clasps. Cigaret cases are made of a curious composition of small bits of egg shell lacquered in color.

The Duchess of Guise, wife of the pretender to the French throne, made the recent celebrations of Joan of Arc's Saint's day an occasion to remind all good Frenchmen that all the Royalists are not yet dead in France in spite of what many Republicans choose to think.

She sat on the balcony of the Hotel Regina overlooking the Hotel statue of Jeanne on horseback and in company with her young daughter, Princess Francoise, smiled approvingly upon the groups of young Royalists who marched in procession about the statues and down the street.

Whether she went there to provoke or present any Royalist manifestations, no one will ever know. The next day, however, officials politely informed the Duchess that such incidents were harmful, rather than beneficial to her cause.

It is certain that the Duchess loves her role of "Pretendante," but it is a question whether she really takes it seriously and feels that some day she will sit upon the throne. Daughter of the Comte de Paris and sister of the late Duke of Orleans and Montpensier, the souvenir of her ancestors makes her believe she must never despair of arriving at the throne.

Born in 1878, she married her second cousin, son of the Duc de Chartres, in 1899. The Duke of Orleans conferred the sonorous title of Duke de Guise upon his sister's fiancée on the wedding-day. When the two brothers died, he became heir to the throne but seems in nowise happy to be. He would much prefer to live in France where he was very happy than on his little farm in Belgium.

The Duchess, on the contrary, is enchanted with the turn of events, and free to run in and out of her native country at will, she holds receptions for her "subjects" at more or less regular intervals in different parts of France.

New York—Ushers who interfere unduly with lovers at the movies must beware. A young man was beaten up by theater employees for kissing his girl. The head usher was arrested. The complainant's counsel pleaded, "When a boy takes his sweetheart to the movies a little love-making is natural." The head usher was fined $5.

"FLAVOR ZONE" Cooking is better—because it's automatic

In cooking a roast, a well browned zone must first be formed on the outside, for it is from this savory crust that the flavor is drawn into the meat as it continues to cook.

The Westinghouse Flavor Zone Oven performs this browning operation, as it does the cooking operation, under full automatic control.

Westinghouse automatic time and temperature controls, plus the sealed heat principle of oven cookery, browns and cooks your roast to perfection without the slightest attention from you.

You put the meat, and other foods if you like, in the oven, make two simple adjustments and forget your cooking until dinner time. When you are ready to serve it the roast is cooked with all the flavor and zest a roast can have—better than if you had spent tedious hours watching over it.

No other range, fuel or electric, performs first the browning and then the cooking operation under full automatic control.

Let us demonstrate this new and better cookery. Or if more convenient, phone or write us for our booklet "The Story of Flavor Zone Cooking."

"HANGMAN'S HOUSE"

John Ford, Fox Films director, has added another photoplay to his list in "Hangman's House," Fox production which came to the State last night.

Victor McLaglen plays the stellar role of Citizen Hogan while June Collyer and Larry Kent have the featured romantic leads with Hobart Bosworth and Earle Foxe in strong supporting parts.

Briefly, the story is that of an adamant old Irish Chief Justice who, as "Jimmy the Hangman," insists that his daughter shall wed a man she dislikes rather than the man of her choice. In the person of Larry Kent, who is cast as Dermott McDermott.

When her father dies, shortly after a midnight ceremony in the chapel of "Hangman's House," June Collyer, as Connaught O'Brien, suffers untold agony as the unwilling bride of John Darcy, as depicted by Earle Foxe. Darcy, who is concealing a checkered career, is trailed to Ireland by Citizen Hogan, played by Victor McLaglen. Connaught wonders why Darcy fears the mysterious Hogan but is kept in doubt until the day of the annual steepchase in which Connaught has entered her favorite horse. The Bard of Armagh, Darcy, betting against The Bard, is infuriated when Dermott rides The Bard to victory. Darcy shoots The Bard and is exposed by Hogan as the man who has wronged Hogan's sister in Paris. Gripping sequences pile up in preparation for a smashing climax.

HATTON AND BEERY

The latest nonsense opera of Raymond Hatten and Wallace Beery, that inimitable pair, "Now We're In the Air," opened at the Grand last night. Beery and Hatten exceed anything they have ever done before for Paramount.

They are shown as a couple of boob aviators, who become such by wandering into a propeller testing room where six propellers are roaring at once and having their Scotch highlander costumes blown off them. Some one tosses them a pair of flying suits and they are off.

Mistaken identity dominates the theme. It does not end with the comedians being mistaken for fliers, but Louise Brooks, the charming and beautiful leading woman, figures in the mistakes. She plays twin sisters, one German and one French. Wally loves the German girl and Ray the French; their problem of telling them apart is a tough one and leads to no end of amusing situations.

Beery and Hatten are first heroes of the Germans, and then heroes of the French. Naturally such good "breaks" don't last, and they find themselves before a firing squad and between the devil and the deep blue sea.

Gag after gag, some tried and true, but nearly all new, escort this funny pair through their celluloid adventures. The story has a refreshing resemblance to an actual plot. The work of the cast is consistently capable. Malcolm Waite is the enemy spy who does the villainous work. Russell Simpson is the Scotch lord who hires the team as servants, and others are Emile Chautard and Duke Martin. Frank Strayer directed.

Our favorite recipe

Sliced Strawberry Jam

Every woman knows that the longer fruit is boiled the more its bright color darkens and its delicate, fresh flavor drifts away in steam.

That is why the new short-bill method of making jams and jellies with Certo delights so many women.

The following easy recipe makes the finest strawberry jam you have ever tasted. Two quarts of berries will make ten eight-ounce glasses of jam.

Cut in halves lengthwise with stainless knife about 2 quarts of small or medium sized fully ripe berries. Large berries should be quartered. After slicing, weigh out 2 lbs. berries; or, measure, 4 1/2 level cups, packing solidly into the cup until juice and fruit come to top of cup. Add 7 level cups (3 lbs.) sugar and mix well. Use hottest fire and stir constantly before and while boiling. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard for 3 minutes. Remove from fire and stir in 1/2 cup Certo. Skim and stir constantly for just 5 minutes after taking from fire to cool slightly, which prevents fruit floating. Then pour quickly and cover hot jam at once with hot paraffin wax. (This recipe as well as recipes for crushed and whole fruit Strawberry Jam are in the book of recipes which comes under the label of each bottle of Certo.)

Certo is the natural substance in fruit which causes it to tell. It has been extracted from fruit, refined and bottled so that you may use it to make all your fruits jelly perfectly without the old-fashioned, tedious and uncertain long "boiling down."

Get Certo from your grocer. A book of simple, tested recipes for nearly 100 delicious jams, jellies and marmalades comes under the label of each bottle.

Recommended by cooking expert

Miss Alice Bradley, Principal, Miss Farmer's School of Cookery and Cooking Editor, Woman's Home Companion, says—

"I earnestly advise all housewives to get a bottle of Certo and try out one of the recipes. One trial will convince you that the best way to make jams and jellies is 'The Certo Way.'"

Some Novelties for the Salad Course

The salad course is considered of great importance on modern tables. In fact, it serves for both salad and dessert courses in many instances when a frozen or a sweet fruit salad is used. For this reason any novelty is acceptable to the hostess who enjoys adventuring with new dishes.

Cheese Pastry Fingers

Make a rich pastry the same as for pies and roll it out very thin. Cut in rectangular pieces two inches wide and four inches long. Make a heavy spreading paste of a quarter pound of Roquefort, half a pack- age of fresh cream cheese, a beaten egg yolk, pepper, salt and a few drops of cream to soften. Spread half the pastry strips, then cover them with the other halves and bake in a hot oven on a greased shallow pan until the pastry is cooked. Serve with salad.

Cheese Rolls

Grate a pound of American sharp cheese, or Edam cheese. Add to the cheese a quarter pint of hot milk, a little pepper and salt. Slice homemade bread thin, spread with the cheese mixture, roll the slices and place them in a buttered baking plate and lightly brown them in the oven. Serve with salad.

Smoked Salmon Sandwiches

Get a small quantity of smoked salmon sliced wafer thin at the delicatessen. Cut whole wheat bread in very thin slices, cutting off the crust, brush over lightly with heavy mayonnaise, then lay up with the sliced fish, garnish the sandwiches with a little chopped olives and peppers mixed. Serve with salad.

Caviar Rounds

Make as many toast rounds as are needed, spread lightly with heavy mayonnaise, then with caviar that has been mixed with a little lemon and onion juice, a bit of red pepper and a hard-boiled egg put through the ricer. Garnish with a stuffed olive and serve the rounds with salad.

Herring Sticks

Take a dozen strips of boneless herring and sprinkle them with lemon juice, dust with a little cayenne pepper, then dip them in hot fat. Drain on blotting paper, pile on a dolly covered dish, garnish with sprays of fresh watercress and serve with salad.

Deviled Shrimp Egg

Boil six fresh eggs hard, chill, peel, cut in halves lengthwise and remove the yolks. Clean and then shred with a fork 12 boiled shrimp. Soften the egg yolks with a little heavy mayonnaise, season with pepper, a little salt, a saltspoonful of sugar, a teaspoonful of tomato catsup, a few drops of onion juice and the same of Worcestershire sauce, then add the shrimp. Mix well, then fill the whites mounding them lightly, then sprinkle with a little chopped peppers and olives. Serve with salad.

Clam Fingers

Steam open a dozen and a half little neck clams and chop them fine. Season with butter, pepper, a little tomato catsup, a table-spoonful of finely rolled cracker crumbs, then spread on toast fingers that have been brushed over with heavy mayonnaise. Serve as soon as made with a tomato salad.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, June 12.—The scarf is so much a part of the coat, frock or cape this spring, that it seems to have taken root and is growing fast there.

It is either sewed on or belongs to the particular garment by being cut from the self-same material. It is usually placed at the neck or shoulder, but there are various arrangements, and Parisiennes are past masters in draping it to the best advantage of their particular beauty.

For short women, it is a first aid to adding height and making for long slim lines. In this case, it floats full length from the shoulders.

On the other hand, it may prove a boon for tall women. If used in the proper manner, it can decrease their height by several inches.

Madame Vallet makes it a part of a bolero arrangement coming from the right side-front draped upward to the left shoulder and thrown around the neck. It is caught under a large pearl pin. It may also be simply thrown over the left shoulder falling to the knees in the back.

A smart scarf on a new summer coat in grey-green maroon is cut slightly flaring with four deep circular bands curving upward toward the front occupying the lower half of the coat.

On a sports costume made of dark blue tussikasha, a flag-red handkerchief with white polka-dots makes the scarf. Another model shows the half-handkerchief draped like a scarf. It is a very large triangle with one point attached to the left side front of the square neckline. It is then brought around the neck and passes through double slits in the front of the blouse hanging in a long jabot.

Chicago—The bunion derby of C. C. Pyle had nothing on a dance marathon for dazed endurance. Take it from 10 couples going round and round at the coliseum last Saturday. There were trainers, masseurs, physicians, dieticians, managers and whatnot to add longevity to the affair.

Too Much ACID

Many people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief. Please do that—for your own sake—now.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

COLLEGIAN ON YEAR'S TRIP TO STUDY INDIANS

Will Travel Alone to the Arctic; Plans to Live With Obscure Race

Chicago, June 12—Traveling alone into the arctic region for scientific data on the Indians of the far north, Cornelius Osgood, 23-year-old student of the University of Chicago, has left Chicago on a 4,000 mile exploration trip.

The journey will carry Osgood into the bleak Great Bear Lakes region, where no white man ever before has stayed to live with the obscure Hareskins Indians, as one of them, and study their conditions. The investigation is being made by Osgood as research for a Doctor of Philosophy degree, comparing the cultural relation of the Hareskins with the Hopis, Zanis and Pueblo Indians of New Mexico and Central America.

Osgood will live with the Hareskins for a year, studying their lives, habits and ways of thinking, and will submit his observations to the university here.

Outfitted at Ottawa

At Ottawa, Canada, the national museum outfitted him with the scant equipment he will take on the trip; two rifles, twenty-four notebooks, a recording phonograph and fifty discs to register native songs and an elderdown sleeping bag to withstand the temperatures which at times reaches far below zero.

Caribou will furnish most of the food of the young explorer, for it is the chief part of their meals, he revealed before starting. He will live as one of the Indians, adopting their customs, doing the work they do and absorbing as much as possible of their viewpoint.

From Ottawa Osgood proceeded by train to Edmonton and Watrous, Alberta.

From Watrous he was to make a 2,000 mile trip by canoe, over a tortuous and dangerous route into the Great Bear Lakes region.

The journey by canoe is over a region practically unmapped, as it passes through the Hudson Bay company's trapping grounds.

Osgood is not expected to arrive in the Great Bear Lakes district before August 15.

Before leaving Chicago, Osgood was initiated into Sigma Xi, national honorary scientific fraternity.

At Great Bear Lake

Using Great Bear Lake as a base, the young scientist will penetrate as far north as Coronation gulf, on the Arctic ocean. Dog sledging expeditions probably will be frequently necessary, it is understood, since there are only about a thousand of the Hareskins surviving over several thousand square miles.

Few white men have penetrated the region. In 1912 two missionaries were slain there by the natives and the murderers were apprehended finally by a member of the Mounted Police. D'Arcy Arden, noted northland figure, and the Explorer Stefansson, were among the few who have been there. Stefansson has said he never would return to the Great Bear lakes region alone.

"Osgood's trip should, I believe, furnish a valuable contribution to our knowledge of the Athabaskan civilization."
